

Do you have a story to share with others?

The '16 Days, 16 Stories' Project aims to collect the stories of those working or living with Domestic Abuse (DA). The project wants to hear the stories of a range of individuals who are or have been affected by any element of DA; whether as a professional working alongside a victim or a perpetrator, as an individual survivor of DA or the Manager of a Local DA Service Provider etc.

The project aims to collect and publish these stories through a range of media, to encourage and promote awareness of the impact of DA as part of the 16 Days of Action to end Gender Violence.

Contact Details:

Please provide your name and either an email or phone number so that we can get back to you if we need to check anything with you.

Care will be taken to protect the identity of anyone featured in your story however you must get the individuals permission before submission. However if YOU would also like to remain anonymous please let us know by placing a mark in this box:

It would be useful if you could provide some information about yourself and why you have a story to tell us about DA. For example are you a professional working in a DA service or have you been a victim of abuse yourself? Then please tell us about an incident related to DA that you feel has affected you personally. It could be something that happened to you, to a client or to a family member or friend.

If you would like to speak or dictate your story (or be interviewed directly) then please contact jenny.bull@victimsupport.org.uk or call her on 07507 627820

We are aiming to keep your stories to approx. 300-400 words. If you do need to use more words that's OK but be aware that we might then edit your story down a little bit in order to fit our publishing requirements.

When complete please return to jenny.bull@victimsupport.org.uk

Please use space below and overleaf if required. Thanks.

In the space below please can you tell us a little about yourself and why you have a story to tell?

Please tell us about an incident, involving Domestic Abuse that has had an impact on you; whether through your relationships, your work or through a third party.
